第7問 次の英文をよく読んで、以下の問いに答えなさい。（*印がついた単語には、あとに語注があります。）

What do *mice like to eat? In movies, mice often like to eat cheese. However, this is not always correct. There are many kinds of mice in the world, and they eat different food in different places. Some like plants, and others like insects. So, some mice don't like cheese very much. Also, eating cheese can make them sick because it contains a lot of salt. You should prepare nuts and fruits for pet mice as their food.

Think about cats. When you go to a pet shop, you will see a picture of a cat and fish on a bag of cat food. Many Japanese people think cats' favorite food is fish. However, people in other countries think they like meat such as chicken and beef better. In fact, cats didn't eat fish a long time ago. They lived in desert areas that had little water, so they couldn't get fish. Japan is surrounded by the sea, and a lot of fish can be caught. So, cats often eat fish and Japanese people think their favorite food is fish.

How about carrots and horses? There are not as many kinds of horses as mice. They all eat plants and never eat meat. You can say, "Horses love carrots." However, to speak more correctly, you should say, "Horses love sweet foods like carrots." Actually, horses like various sweet vegetables and fruits such as pumpkins and bananas. Some horses like other sweet vegetables or fruits better than carrots. Rabbits also like fruits and vegetables, so you can see a rabbit character holding a strawberry on rabbit food.

When you think about animals and fruits, do you think about monkeys and bananas? Like mice, there are many kinds of monkeys in the world, and almost all of them like fruits. From the view of science, we can say that many monkeys like bananas. However, from the view of culture, it is not always correct to say, "Monkeys' favorite food is bananas." In some countries, other fruits are known as monkeys' favorite food. For example, in China, when you see a picture of a monkey, it is often eating a peach.

In this way, the food animals really like is sometimes different from the food people think the animals like.

(注) mice : mouse の複数形
