Woman☆ :

My name is Akari. I like my name very much because it's a special name for my family and me. Long ago, my mother wanted to give her daughter the name of a flower. This is because her name is Sumire, and it's the name of my grandmother's favorite flower. However, she changed her mind twelve years ago. One day, she was on the train to go home from the hospital. Then, the train stopped suddenly. It didn't move for about two hours, and my mother had to stay there until it moved again. At the next station, she felt very sick and got off the train. Then, two high school students came and helped her. The boy called the station staff, and the girl stayed with my mother. She called my father too, so he could come to help her quickly. When my father arrived, he asked the two students their names. The boy's name was Hiroki and the girl's name was Akari. Yes. My name comes from that girl. After that, my parents visited their school and thanked them again. My parents wanted to give a gift to them, but they said, "We are happy that you are safe. That's enough for us." In September of that year, I was born, and my mother named me Akari. Three years later, my brother was born, and my parents named him Hiroki. My parents hope that we will be kind like those two students, so I always try to be kind to others. Now, Akari, the girl who helped my mother, works as a doctor, and Hiroki, the boy who helped her, works as a police officer. They help many people every day. I'm twelve now and cannot do much yet, but someday I'll be a kind and wonderful person like them. (20 秒)
